“ I have so many wonderful memories of you. How you made me watch the Spice Girls movie a million times, how you would tackle me from behind if you spotted me in the mall, or how you would fuss at me for not calling you and then when I did you'd be quiet on the phone. You always laughed at my jokes, and when I wasn't around, you never forgot me or our friendship. You will be in my heart forever.

“ To the Mastoras family my deepest condolences go out to you heaven has truly gained another angel... May she watch over and protect you all. I enjoyed my years working with her at Sharrots rd. Angeliki was my baby at times she made it hard to love her but none the less you could never stop loving her... Angel my baby you are free to live the life you always wanted now.. I loved you in life and I will continue to love you in death.. S.I.P baby girl.

“ Angeliki I have known you from a beautiful teenager to a beautiful woman you didn't always make life easy for us at Sharrots. Coming into CP they told us not to have favorites but how could you not. I took to you instantly and you made me work for your affection. You were my baby girl I loved you in life and I will continue to love you in death. I hope now you are living the life you always dreamed and living it to the fullest you are no longer suffering. My deepest condolences go out to the Mastoras family may she be your shining star on dark nights watching over you and protecting you. Heaven gained an true Angel.
