

Charles M. Corsitto

February 2, 2022

Charles Corsitto, 58 years old, of Port Washington, New York, died on February 2, 2022, after a ten month hard-fought battle with advanced esophageal cancer. Charlie is survived by his beloved wife of 25 years, Deborah, their three beautiful sons, Aaron, Matthew and Noah, eight loving brothers and sisters, Fran, Jack, Terese, Joseph, Katherine, Thomas, Rita and Michael, and his dearest friend, Jack. He was the seventh child of the late Catherine and Thomas Corsitto. A graduate of the Culinary Institute of America, Charlie eventually changed professions and worked in the transportation services industry for decades. He was known for his devotion to his family, for his uncompromising work ethic, for his infectious smile and generous heart, and for giving the best hugs, cooking the most delicious manicotti, and cheering the loudest at little league games. Charlie was simply the most loving man this world could ever know.

“ *To my childhood best friend, who I was truly blessed to have in my life.
You were a good father, husband, brother, and friend.
You were a true man, the world was a better place with you in it!
I am at a loss for words to express the sorrow, I thank you for being Charlie!
