“ I have very fond memories of Mr. Miller when I was growing up. He was a fun neighborhood dad, my boxing coach for a few years, one of my first "bosses" when I worked at a small store he owned. And as teenagers, he took his son David and I on some really fun road trips to the Dakotas. Rest In Peace, Sir.

I met David as one of his Personal Aides a little over a year ago. We "hit it off" almost immediately. He was a kind gentleman, easy-going and a pleasure to be around. I was honored to be in his company for the last year of his life. It was a wonderful experience in humility and love that he expressed in his relationship to myself and anyone else that he encountered. I hope that I pass that along to everyone I meet. Thank you my dear friend!
