

Ida Z. Schindelman

September 7, 2022

Ida Z. Schindelman of East Williston, New York passed away at home on September 7, 2022. She embraced life through connections with her family, friends, and colleagues. So many people benefitted from her assistance, although she never sought the spotlight. As a young woman she loved teaching kindergarteners. Years later, with a Masters in Library Science, she became a school librarian. Her love of knitting and giving back sparked the idea to create Knitting for a Cause, a group who knitted caps for the Seamen's Institute each year and expanded to knitting caps and baby blankets for preemies. Volunteering at North Shore Hospital (now Northwell Health) was enjoyed weekly for many years. She shared her love of knitting with patients who were encouraged to learn. It was a win-win situation. Unconditional support was given to everyone and everything she cared about. Her passions centered on family and charitable endeavors, with her 73 year marriage to her high school sweetheart, Joe, the most important of all. She will always be remembered for sharing her love of the beach, children, books, teaching, knitting, music, volunteering, theater... so many passionate causes, trying to be there for everyone whenever they needed her...we'll call Mom or Ikie! She will be forever in the hearts of her four children: Dale, Laurel, Maxine, and Michael, their spouses: Marty, Larry, and Roma, her granddaughter, Samantha, great grandson, Lawson, her sister Esther, a large extended family and friends who were fortunate enough to know her. We will be loving her always...
