“ Jimmy,

I'm not sure where to begin, but I know one thing for sure—I loved you more than words could ever say. Even through all the ups and downs, my love for you never wavered. You were such a kind and caring soul, always there for others, and even when you didn't have the words to express your pain, I could see it in your eyes. I will always carry the memories we shared close to my heart, from the quiet, calm moments to the laughter we shared over simple things. I will cherish the good times we had, and even in your struggles, you were still the man I cared so deeply for. You will always have a special place in my heart, and I will hold onto the love we shared forever.

I know you are finally at peace now, the lord saw you were tired. I'll never stop loving you.

Forever in my heart,

Joanne
