“ Au revoir, Theo...

As the remaining family elder and patriarch, he was a gentle man who I valued and respected so much in this mortal life. I often told him that he was my role model, and he'd chuckle modestly. He was a humble man with a big heart and a warm and ever welcoming smile.

He was a cherished uncle and godfather. We shared many treasured conversations. He often expressed his great love and appreciation for his family. He knew he was a fortunate man, despite his unanticipated trials and tribulations. We always ended our conversations with a heartfelt - "I love you".

It pains me to say goodbye, but his work here is now done. He has had a fulfilled, often challenging, journey here on Earth. It is his time, now, to rest. I find comfort believing that he is now well on his way to reuniting with in the heavenly realm with his God, his incredible wife, his special son, his wonderful siblings, and his loving parents.

With sincere affection and so much love - your nephew/godson, Van-John

“ Our beloved Uncle Manny,
All wonderful memories of the person, the man that was our safe place to fall
The person that always had a kind word and a beautiful smile
His kindness and love will never be forgotten
We know you will be dancing up there

With his signature "Hi, hon" Uncle Manny was always quick with a smile and a hug. Even as a young uncle, he didn't hesitate to play with us kids and let us feel like part of his "group." For Uncle Manny, saying "I love you" came naturally. He expressed it often and sincerely. I will miss hearing those touching words from him. I love YOU, sweet Uncle. You will be missed. Your loving niece, Janet
