“ Phyllis and my mother, Eileen Kaplan, were friends since high school.

In the early 2000s, my mother was stricken with dementia. She lived with this condition, that only ever deteriorated and, quite honestly, made it difficult to be around her, until she passed earlier this year.

No matter how difficult it got, Phyllis remained a part of her life. She spent holidays such as Passover, Rosh Hashanah, and Thanksgiving with us in recent years. Even after my mother's passing, we got together with her frequently and we're to spend Thanksgiving with each other next week.

Phyllis was an interesting person who was a true and loving friend to my mother. I'll always be grateful to her. We will miss her very much.

Phyllis was a friend of my late wife, Eileen, since high school. The last ten years my wife developed dementia. Once a month we got together with Phyllis for lunch at the Cheesecake Factory. Phyllis would greet Eileen with hugs and kisses, which brought joy to everyone.

I am greatly saddened by the sudden loss of a wonderful person. I will miss her smile and upbeat personality.
