“ My heart goes out to Rich's family and friends on this tragic loss. When I was with Chicago Actors Studio, I had the pleasure of sharing many happy moments and conversations with Rich. He was a smart, witty, charming and talented man. This photo is Rich and my good friend Dan, who played the role of Rich in our comedy parody show, "Planes, Trains and Ubers." Richard was a good actor and had a fun sense of humor...he used to make me laugh with his stories and unique spin on life. Thank you for the wonderful memories, Rich, and may you fly forever at peace with God and the angels ❤️

Richard was a wonderful actor and teacher at Chicago Actors Studio. I am the kids and teen acting teacher. Richard's class was following mine on Saturdays. I would invite him to share his career in films, commercials and plays with my young students. I kept in touch with him when he moved to New York in 2020. He loved being there. "There is no place like home" for Richard. Grateful he is going to rest in peace in Long Island. He will be missed by all his acting students and of course all the staff and teachers who laughed and enjoyed his smile.

“ I just remember he was a great teachers at the Chicago Actors Studio. I took many classes with him. He guided me in many acting scenes. Outside of classes we shared some times with other students like the time we went to the Cuban Festival. We also went with Edward Fogel, and other students to downtown Chicago to see a show and have dinner. Great times. RIP Richard.

“ Just last month Rich and I were making our plans to meet in Huntington (OK more specifically @ Finnegan's) for our 50th HS Reunion! This was going to be a great time for us to finally see one another after 40 years of just calls/emails/text messages or quick hellos while I was in Chicago on business. How the good Lord keeps us navigating through life's ups & downs ...
I remember like it was yesterday (2 know-it-all Long Islanders) moving into our Dorm as roomies - thinking "we ain't in NY anymore, Rich!" Apparently, our Ohio Hall mates thought he and I were hard to understand because of our accents ! Luckily we had no problem communicating with our Lacrosse Teammates and a year later with our Phi Delta Theta Brothers living in the Fraternity House.
We had a great 4 year run at Bowling Green - Life Long Friends ...
But our HS teammates will always remember Rich on Finnegan's Wall as -

My fondest memory of Richard was how he did hilarious impersonations of my husband TED LISS at our annual Christmas Parties, while studying acting at our workshop in Old Town Chicago. Ted and I would laugh so hard we were doubled over. Rich became an excellent Actor and had hopes that he would get the break he deserved and be well known. He is gone too soon. My sincere condolences to his family. He will be missed.

My deepest condolences to Rich's family and friends. I had the pleasure of coaching Rich at Bowling Green. He was a fine teammate; solid young man; killer smile; a happy kid. I'm heart-sick to know he's gone; another light extinguished.

When hearing of Richard's passing, to put it mildly, it created a total total shock wave through out the entire student body and faculty of the Chicago Actors Studio where Rich not only contributed so much to the school as a teacher but also as a mentor and friend to so many. It created a hole that can never be filled and so many precious memories that will forever be carried in our hearts. His infectious smile, humor, talents, generous heart, spirit, and words of wisdom will remain within the fabric of so many that were fortunate enough to cross paths with him in life

Obviously, we all love you Rich and thank you for so many gifts, that have done nothing less but enrich our lives while you were here and will continue to enhance the better part of who we are, along with the impact your teaching will have on our abilities as artists for years to come.
