“ Serafin was my neighbor. I will always remember his humor and strong voice. He always asked my wife for me. Whenever she told him I was sleeping, he would say in a very loud voice “he is lazy”. I enjoyed having daily conversations with him and my family and I will miss him. He will never be forgotten. May he sleep in peace.

“ I know his name is Serafin but I called him SARAFIN! I met Serafin when I was 14 years old I'm now 59 so it's been 44 years. When I met him he immediately took my heart! He would call my name really loud CHOLY!!! Not to long ago I went to see Serafin at the nursing home and as the nurse is bringing him down I can hear him saying really loud "LYDIA.....LYDIA...." Then he see's me and saids "You're not Lydia", " Then "You're not Nena" I go "NO"! He saids "Choly?" I go Yeap!! Then he saids Choly you're not 19?!!! I said No I'm a lot older then 19 Serafin. Then he went on to ask me how I was doing & he asked for my daughter. I will always love ' remember Serafin. Thinking about him always bought a smile & a joy to my spirit! Rest In Peace my Serafin as you now walk through the Golden Gates of Heaven. ❤️🙏❤️ Love always: CHOLY

“ There are so many memories but the one that stands out the most is when Serafine would bring his work home cut up fabric and staple them to paper and then stamp the color of them under neath each fabric. He would even get us to help him and Mommy would be in the kitchen making him a snack of chicharron and he would try to get us to repeat after him in Spanish silly things.

“ What I remember most about Serafin, was when I took him to his doctor and Dr. Sure would drain his knee of fluid. Serafin would hold my hand tight and say “Oh my god that hurts” and after it was all done he’d say “Dr. you don’t feel no pain right? It’s not hurting you it’s hurting me.” Serafin would always joke around with the nurses and with Dr. Sure. He would tell the nurses, who didn’t speak Spanish, “Repeat after me YO SOY FEA” then he would laugh and say “You just said, you were ugly.”

“ My fondest memory is of Serafin and Mommy making Pasteles for Thanksgiving and Christmas. It was amazing how they would take a shopping cart on the subway to Spanish Harlem, then go back home with a full cart of ingredients and spend hours working until midnight just to make them special for the family.

“ All the cousins used to be at their (momi iya and Serafin’s) house and when he heard the ice cream truck he’d always check his pockets or make a B line to his room and give us money to get ice cream. We’d all rush out the house and go running to the ice cream truck smiling. Thank you for the memories

I will always remember Mr. Torres he was like a father figure to me. Whenever I came over to the apartment to do some artwork with his son Henry my dear old school brother, he would call me into the kitchen where he would relax for a moment after having his dinner and would invite me to sit down at the table with him, he would say things to me in Spanish and then ask me what did he just say, Lol, I would answer I don't know, then he'd look at me and reply, " Mauricio, you need to learn the language! And eventually I did. Te echo de menos mucho senior Torres.
